GENERAL NEWS

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN

Grant at Galveston

GALVESTON March 25.—General Grant last night's banquet answering a toast to himself, thanked the city for the cordial reception and referred to his as a lieutenant a little more than a quarter century ago He complimented the state on its vast domain and wished for them and the entire south that they might go on developing their resources and in their prosperity forget that there is a boundary between the north and south He concluded as follows

I am sure we will all be happier and much more prosperous when the day comes that there will be no sectional feeling Let any American who can travel abroad as I have done and with the opportunity of witnessing what is there to be seen that I have, and he will return to America a better American and a better citizen than he was when he went away (Loud cheers) He will return more in love with his own country Far be it from me to find fault with any of the European governments. I was well received at their hands on every side by every nation in Europe but with their dense population and their worn out soil it takes a great deal of government to enable the people to get from the soil a bare subsistence But we have rich virgin soil, with room enough for all of us to expand and live with the use of very little government I do hope that ere long we may be able to get along happily and contentedly without being too much governed.

Snow and Wind.

FAIRFAX, March 25.—The wildest snow storm of the winter is raging here to-night, accompanied by an easterly gale

The Western Union Wins.

[illegible], March 25.—The Western Union contest with the American Union terminated to-day in favor of the former, the injunction restraining the Western Union and the Atlantic & Pacific companies from interfering with wire and poles having been dissolved yesterday morning and suspension refused for appeal. This leaves the Atlantic & Pacific and American Union in full possession of their lines. The decision fully reviews the equities of the case, which are declared to rest entirely with the Western Union for manifold reasons. The court also granted an injunction restraining the Baltimore & Ohio and American Union from interfering further with their lines.

Kentucky for Grant.

LOUISVILLE, March 26.—The republicans held conventions in 55 counties in this state, of which 30 have instructed for Grant, for Sherman and one for Blaine Where no instructions were given, Grant delegates [illegible] state convention have generally been [illegible].

CHICAGO, March 25.—In the case of the city of Chicago against David A. Gage, ex-city treasurer and his bondsmen, involving about $500,000, the supreme court has reversed the decision of the appellate court, and decides that the bondsmen are holden This is in accordance with the original decision of the circuit court. The full extent of the decision is not yet learned.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Railroad Tinkering

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Senators Davis of [illegible], Garland and Carpenter, sub-committee of the judiciary committee to consider the joint resolution introduced by Morgan, and various similar measures looking to the forfeiture of lapsed railroad grants, submitted a report to the full committee to-day recommending the passage of a bill which shall provide authority for the attorney-general to bring suits for forfeiture of land grants of all railroad-companies which have not complied with the requirements of their charters, and which are doing nothing in the line of construction; but including also a proviso excepting from the operations of the bill all railroad companies as are now prosecuting construction of their roads The full committee discussed the report but took no action to-day.

Chinese Trade—A Promising Prospect.

Consul General Baily, in a dispatch to the department of state, dated Feb 3d transmits the annual trade report of China His conclusions are that the trade of China never looked as promising as at the beginning of 1880; that it only needs an intimate knowledge of the requirements of Chinese civilization to enable the manufacturers of the United States to compete with the Chinese in the supplying of an infinite number of articles not now imported into China. The possibilities of the lumber trade, he says are boundless China having to look to the north Pacific coast of the United States for a supply of lumber. Navigation under the American flag still makes a poor showing in China waters A strong merchant marine is still imperatively required

Gen. C. Gorham Working up the Grant Sentiment in Richmond, Va

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A short time since Mr. Geo. C. Gorham on the occasion of a visit to Richmond had an interview with General Mahone. Subsequently, when Gen Mahone came to Washington in a quiet manner, which has already been recorded Gorham was one of the prominent republicans with whom he had a conference. The well known and well earned reputation of Gorham for political finesse and intrigue was the means of investing these interviews with much significance in the minds of the politicians of both parties

A leading democratic politician who arrived from Richmond to-day, says that the belief in political circles there is quite general that the object of the interview was to secure the electoral vote of Virginia for Grant The "readjusters" have all announced very plainly that they intend to run a separate electoral ticket in Virginia and if this is done the prospects for the election of a regular democratic electoral ticket would naturally be very slim Nothing is more apparent here than that the Grant movement in Virginia is a great success for included among those engaged in it are several citizens of prominence and influence

Ouray and his Crew going Home

The house committee on Indian affairs having concluded their examination of Ouray and other Ute chiefs they will start for Colorado to-night

SEYMOUR AND THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

He is not a Candidate but will not Refuse the Nomination if it is Tendered him—some good arguments in his Favor

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

WASHINGTON March 25 The [illegible] letters and dispatches from Syracuse to [illegible] its disputed interview with Seymour and again states the situation as follows

Governor Seymour's present position on the presidential question may be stated in the brief terms with which we have been accustomed to refer to it He is not a candidate and does not want the democratic nomination but if it is given to him he will not refuse it Nothing can be plainer than this and it is all that we have ever asserted in the premises It being then a question of whether the democracy shall nominate as their candidate a man whose nomination means his election or some one else upon whom great hopes may be placed but about whose ultimate success there exists a very natural doubt, we see no excuse for hesitating as to the course to be pursued Horatio Seymour is the one man to head the democratic ticket

Another dispatch says, Senator Kernan who is Horatio Seymour's townsman and intimate friend, observed recently

Mr Seymour is not a candidate. He neither seeks or desires the presidential nomination He regrets extremely that his name should continue to be associated with the presidency Nothing would please him more than to see the party unite upon some one of the many excellent gentlemen who aspire to the position but yet, if the democracy should be unable to combine on any other man than Mr Seymour, and should threaten to thrust the nomination upon him as was the case in 1868 I am at a loss to conceive how he could escape from yielding to the wishes of his party

Emanating from such a source Senator Kernan's observation is regarded as significant

Afternoon Session.

The convention convened at 1 o'clock P M and was called to order by the chair The committees all reported

J. A. Davis was elected permanent chairman W R. Bilyeu secretary, and Chas Montague and L Sanders assistant secretaries.

The chair then appointed a committee on resolutions to report immediately consisting of W R Bilyeu William Cyrus and O P Coshaw who reported but one resolution, the substance of which was that the democratic party pledge itself for a reduction of the fees of clerk and sheriff and paying said officers a salary, and requiring them to turn over all fees collected to the treasurer which resolution prevailed

It was moved by J. H. Smith that the convention vote by ballot, and that a majority of all votes cast elect.

The following delegates to the state convention were then elected, M V. Brown J A Davis, J E. Smith Cal Burkhart A F Beard L Martin, E R Powell Chas. Ralston, Baz Cooper Hiram Williams Jas Moist, L Cline Straud Price R Zeast, Sam May

A resolution was then offered by J H. Smith and adopted by the convention in favor of a reduction of the rate of interest.

The convention then adjourned sine die

An attempt was then made to ratify but it was an abortive attempt and proved only that the spirit of the democracy of old Linn was very much depressed which may be accounted for in some degree from the fact that the general who has presided over the destinies of the democratic party of Linn so long and with so much vim got "badly left" in the nominations for representatives Seven or eight votes didn't give the general a very enthusiastic speech for ratification

AN INQUIRY

PORTLAND March 25 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Excuse me for asking you to publish this I would like to know the reason why three or four delegates to the democratic county convention should assemble in Col Ethan [illegible] and in [illegible] style on yesterday put up a list of delegates to go to the democratic state convention at Albany unless to forestall the free action of the county convention or to carry out some personal private aim?

A bill introduced [illegible] the settlement [illegible] per cent [illegible] district [illegible] passed [illegible] several [illegible]

Carpenter [illegible] president to communicate to the senate [illegible] correspondence between the United States and Spain regarding the fulfillment by the United States of their [illegible] of the treaty of 1819 [illegible] Adjourned

The senate adjourned to day until Monday

House

The first [illegible] question of [illegible] taken up [illegible] the committee on ways and means [illegible] submitted to the committee on revision of laws [illegible] Springer raised the point that the house could only decide the question by appeal from the decision of the speaker

The speaker however said that he desired to [illegible] the house as to whether yesterday's journal should now be read The vote Yeas 11 nays 1—nearly a party vote although 15 democrats voted with the republicans

Knott raised a point that the reading of the journal could not be dispensed with except by unanimous consent

The speaker said that the house had just overruled that point He overruled all other points raised by members and amidst the greatest confusion directed the clerk to read McLane's proposition

Turner, of Ky here with violent gesticulations moved successively to adjourn and take a recess both defeated

The clerk then read McLane's proposition, taking its reference from the committee on revision of laws and giving it to the committee on ways and means

In the course of debate on the McLane proposition, Robeson exonerated Townshend from attempting to do a dishonorable thing and said that he acted under a mistaken idea of the effect of the rules and sense of the house

Springer said that the proposed action would set a revolutionary precedent.

Oscar Turner asked the house to drop the matter and consider the appropriation bills.

Mills strongly denounced the action of the ways and means committee as against the poor man and in favor of capital

Kelley claimed that Townshend had evaded the rules of the house and boasted of it in the hall In so doing he had violated the law and had assigned the unholy reason therefor that a certain committee was not constituted to his taste.

The house by 135 to 93 decided that McLane's proposition contained a question of privilege No democrats voted with the republicans

McLane demanded the previous question on his proposition and the democrats filibustered

McLane said that as he didn't care to be kept here all night by obstructionists he would move to adjourn

The house refused to adjourn by 109 to 84 and further filibustering and attempts at compromise ensued. At one time the sergeant-at-arms brought to the bar of the house Davis, of California Singleton, Richmond O'Reilly and Herbert who excused their absence on the ground of hunger, and were excused The fun mounted to its height when Steele ascending the clerk's desk amid a shower of witticisms recited Tam O'Shanter saying it would be as good as the house was likely to hear

Singleton of Illinois, inquired whether the prayer having concluded it was not in order for the journal to be read

After a long and heated debate between Kelley Townshend and McMillan Conger objected to Woods proposition

The previous question on McLane's proposition was seconded taking the bill from the committee on revision of laws and referring it to the ways and means committee

Blackburn demanded a division of the proposition

On motion of Garfield Monday's journal was then approved and Tuesday's journal read

The question of reading the journals came up and the speaker said that the still unfinished business was whether Wednesday's journal should be read before Monday's and Tuesday's

F Wood as a compromise suggested that Monday's, Tuesday's and Wednesday's journals be read and then the house vote on the resolution discharging the committee on revision of laws from consideration of the Townshend bill and refer it to the ways and means committee

Blackburn and Townshend assented

Townshend said that those conscientiously in favor of this bill had been misled by a false issue which its opponents had raised He admitted that he might have spoken too firmly yesterday but would not retract a single syllable

The Chinatown Ordinance

The thirty days of [illegible] in Chinatown expired to-day but the board of health has as yet taken no action with regard to it. As far as can be learned the board has no other power than to cause the enforcement of existing laws regarding nuisances and overcrowding. The law and ordinances relating to the former bear more heavily upon the property owner than upon the occupants of buildings and were they enforced the [illegible] property owners of Chinatown would suffer more than the Mongolian tenants of condemned building. It is hardly possible [illegible] to make many arrests on account of violations of law as there is no place in which prisoners can be kept The jails are filled to overflowing already This fact has been brought to the notice of the board of supervisors and board of police commissioners but as yet no action has been taken towards providing quarters for the detention of the prisoners who would be arrested in scores should the cubic air ordinance and other laws be enforced

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] bar [illegible] has a pretext [illegible] bar it If [illegible] collected upon [illegible] against the bar has been [illegible] for [illegible] of the tug service on the bar has sought by implication [illegible] a shallow [illegible] channel This remark has served its purpose and up to this day no one has attributed the loss of the Dilharree to the careless handling by the pilots and tugs there belonging. At the point where the Dilharree struck the channel is over half a mile wide and an allowance of sheer way for an ill modeled or poor steering vessel should necessarily have constrained the pilot to give plenty of leeway in passing out but probably trusting to ordinary conditions which in ninety nine cases in a hundred would have carried them they ventured a little too near with results to loss. Now can any sane person under such circumstances attribute the blame to the Columbia bar any more than the loss of the Pride of the West, Alfred West ern Shore and Jesse Osborne on Duxbury Reef to the Golden Gate or the innumerable losses on Puget Sound and off Cape Flattery to the shoals existing thereabouts Of course not and none but the perversely blind will claim but that they represent losses similar in character to the Dilharree loss They were out of the channel and stranded. Under cover of these unchallenged attacks against the bar the jackals of trade who live off of its necessities are conspiring against shipments by the way of the Columbia in enhanced pretensions of freight and insurance and all for no reason except the clamor of those who desire government expenditure and those who wish to shield Capt Flavel from the censure necessarily involved in the investigation which must be had No one has for a moment averred but that if the ship had kept in the channel all would have been well But as if in exemplification of the orthodox saying "broad is the way that leads to death" it would probably have been the same with the ill fated Dilharree had the channel been two miles broad The plaintive statement of the captain that after striking there was 18 feet of water on one side and 30 on the other only goes to prove that there are two sides to everything and the Dilharree struck upon one of them Now your correspondent expects to encounter a class of blank fools, whose prejudice against the Columbia river trade warps their reason and they will never allow but that this is a casualty directly attributable to the channel instead of the bar They will probably go on lying in this reprehensible way until the memory of George Washington and his little hatchet fades into the lack luster of fable. But I still insist that the unknowing ones whose minds are as open as a bushel basket to imbibe information should not be fed by crumbs from those with interested motives alone and so I rise to the occasion, not being accustomed to print in order that the unadulterated truth may have an airing before the public as contradistinguished from the sinister imputations of men with axes to grind

The Columbia river with its volume of water flowing from the drain of 200,000 square miles, is so irresistible that the devices of man can avail but little to guide or direct it Left to its life to bury its volume in the reservoir of the ocean there can be no question but that the law of gravitation will do its work The only wholly uninterested testimony we can have as to the Columbia river channel over the bar must come from official surveys and soundings The servants of the government have no ulterior purpose in giving other than the facts while the owners of steamships and vessels and pilots are all interested to exaggerate the supposed danger existing there

In conclusion I must say that I believe the Columbia has as good a channel to the ocean to day as it ever had or will ever have It is sufficient for the largest class of vessels taking advantage of the weather and tide and that is just what must be said of every barred port in the world. The most practical suggestion for the benefit of commerce at the bar is to propose a tugboat with sufficient power to make its strength effective Some how no wiseacre has as yet happened on this thought, and I should like to patent it It is what they have everywhere else, and as I understand the watermen of Puget Sound in anticipation of the commerce that is to come to this finest body of water in the world have tugs already twice as powerful as any belonging to Capt. Flavel

I think the or some one else would take the hint there would be little to declaim against at the bar and no more wrecks then unless some mulish pilot should conclude to steer outside the channel and then Omnipotence couldn't prevent it This is my

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 26, 1880

SEYMOUR AGAIN

In 1868 Mr. Seymour of New York, when urged to accept the nomination of his party for the presidency, professed great disinclination to do so. Being then only fifty years of age, (he was born in the year 1811) he declared that he wished only the privilege of spending the remainder of his days in peace, as he had had enough of public life and political annoyance; and he therefore requested that he be let alone, while he urged his party to look elsewhere for a leader. But in the manner in which he seemed to put the honor away from him there was always something very like a sign that his decision was not irrevocable. It suggested always that it might be possible to overcome his objections, and that he was only putting off solicitations until the time should arrive when his consent might be yielded with an appearance of "coy submission, modest pride, and sweet, reluctant, amorous delay." So at last, after all his vows that he never would consent, he consented. The Tweedy Tilden electoral frauds carried New York for him, but as there was then no solid south for the democratic party to lean on, he was badly beaten. Yet perhaps he made as good a run as any candidate of his party could have done at the time. He is, in truth, a man of exceptional ability and large popularity; and now again not a few members of his party are turning towards him as a candidate who would perhaps receive as nearly the whole support of the party as any other man who could be named.

Twelve years added to the age of Mr. Seymour since 1868 bring him now to his seventieth year. He is in truth, rather too old to be a candidate for the presidency, and his years and his infirmities suggest a doubt whether if elected he could bear up amidst the cares of the position and the pressure of his hungering brethren for office,—whether, in short, he would survive even the first year of his term. No man of his years has ever been elected to the presidency. Buchanan was sixty-six when he took the office; and before his term expired it was painfully evident that he was past the years of his strength. Of Mr. Seymour a correspondent reports: "The weaknesses of age are growing upon him. His health is generally good, and as long as his methodical life is not broken in upon, he does not show evidence of decay, but under the slightest excitement his nervous system gives way, he is unable to sleep, he loses his appetite and the quiet dignity and self-poise that have always distinguished him give place to a fretful anxiety and childish petulance. For this reason his friends protect him from all approaches, prevent his talking upon exciting topics, and drive newspaper interviewers and other curious intruders away. It is said that if Mr. Seymour should spend the evening in political discussion, he would entirely destroy his sleep for the following night." He is not so much older than Mr. Tilden,—only three years; but the political prestidigitator of Gramercy Park lives in an atmosphere of intrigue, and has his element in what would probably be the death of the recluse of Deerfield.

To these details present interest attaches from the fact that Mr. Seymour is now again mentioned for the presidency. He is again declining the honor, of course; but the tone of his declinature is so curiously in accord with that of 1868 that his supporters appear to entertain little doubt that they can again overcome a reluctance which seems to tempt further solicitation rather than emphasize final refusal. Mr. Seymour would be in some respects a stronger candidate than Mr. Tilden, but in others far weaker. He has no personal enemies in his party, but he lacks Tilden's organizing power. However, those democrats who are looking to Mr Seymour as their candidate are not yet rid of Mr. Tilden, and the manager of Gramercy Park will see to it that they do not forget the fact.

VERY LARGE FIGURES.

De Lesseps, who is in San Francisco, talks with great confidence about the prospects of his proposed canal, though it really does not appear that there is much to justify his confidence, as it is not known that there has yet been a single actual subscription to the stock of his company. Half the stock was generously assigned to this country by the European projectors, but in consequence of the uncertainties of the enterprise it is not being sought with that avidity which the enthusiastic Frenchman seems to have expected. M. de Lesseps is called a diplomatist, but it is remarked that he is at present laboring under the disadvantage of talking in public and having his words reported through the newspapers. This sort of thing plays sad havoc with the arts of diplomacy. Captious people clip out and critically compare the different statements, and the result is sad confusion in the minds of those who seek to follow the eminent Frenchman. His estimates of the cost of the canal and its probable revenue are picked to pieces by remorseless engineers. It would seem that the count is rather loose in the employment of figures. He astonished his critics by placing the total cost of the great work at $108,000,000; but unfortunately, in going into details, he gave sums that raised the total far above the gross sum fixed upon originally. And it appears that his estimates for distinct parts of the work are easily shown to be absurdly low. Without going into the details of the controversy, it is sufficient to say that the statements of the eminent diplomatist and engineer have been so seriously impeached that cautious capitalists are not likely to invest a dollar in the scheme until some of the discrepancies are cleared up.

Reviewing the recent decision of the supreme court of the United States on the election laws, the New York Herald tersely says: "In spite of the ingenious dissenting opinion of Judge Field we believe it to be a correct decision, and have no doubt that the country will so regard it after weighing the arguments of the supreme court in support of its judgment. All that has been said in opposition is mere plausible sophistry. The power exercised by congress in passing the election laws is not derived from the new amendments; it has no connection with negro rights; it is founded on a plain provision of the original and unamended constitution, which declares that the times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but congress may at any time make or alter such regulations." This is plain, common sense, and plain common sense is the best and safest law.

Dr. Leonard Bacon, discussing in a recent article the question whether Gen. Grant should be the republican candidate says the answer seems to lie in two facts which the newspapers have not yet adequately discussed, namely:

> First—President Grant's first term produced that schism in the republican party which made Horace Greeley a democratic candidate for the presidency.
> Secondly—President Grant's second term resulted in that political reaction which almost defeated the election of President Hayes, and which has given the control of congress in both houses to the democratic party.

On these statements the following comment is added: "In the face of these two facts, so full of meaning, does it seem likely that, if Gen. Grant should be nominated for a third term, the republican party, or the people without regard to party, would rally enthusiastically to his support? Remember that in this year, 1880, a republican nomination is not exactly equivalent to an election."

It seems probable from a dispatch that appears to-day that Kentucky may send Grant delegates to the Chicago convention. From Mr. Tilden's operations hitherto it is safe to say that he will get the delegates to the Cincinnati convention from such states as Iowa and Michigan. Thus Grant may be nominated by delegates from democratic states, and Tilden by delegates from republican states. Would the race be to the swift in such a case?

Canon Farrar, the noted English author and preacher, has written a letter to Rev. Joseph Cook of Boston, in which he says: "It seems to me that drunkenness stands almost alone among human sins in being absolutely curable and preventable. The work achieved by Mohammed alone is sufficient to prove that this source of crime and misery might be simply eliminated from the list of the evils which scourge mankind."

The Utah Northern railroad is now 290 miles in length. On the 9th March its first rail was laid in the territory of Montana. There was quite a demonstration in honor of the event. In a short time the road will be in operation to Red Rock.

The republicans of California will hold their state convention at Sacramento on the 29th April, to elect delegates to represent the state in the Chicago convention.

Eastern wires were down last night. Hence reports this morning are not full.

PURITY GUARANTEED!

The Best White Lead now Made in California.

Unequaled for Whiteness and Covering Power, Durability & Fineness.

Do not Confound the WESTERN WHITE LEAD with any Other California Brand. Its Superiority is Beyond Comparison.

The Western White Lead Company have the pleasure to announce the most complete success of their brand of White Lead. It is far superior to any other Lead made in California. Nothing but the finest material is employed, and no care or expense will be spared to maintain its present high standard and reputation.

WESTERN WHITE LEAD will not be sold in competition—so far as price is concerned—with inferior brands. The manufacturers do not offer "Western" Lead as a low-priced brand. They offer it as the BEST. It is, in reality, however, the cheapest, even at higher cost, because it will go further, look better and last longer than any other California Lead.

WHITE LEAD may be perfectly PURE and yet POOR. Unless made from the very finest material, and prepared with the greatest skill and care, it will turn yellow or become otherwise discolored, and will chalk or peel off.

Examine work a few months old, which has not been finished with prime Lead, such as "Atlantic" or "Western," and these defects will be apparent.

Entirely different from other Saws. When dull, sharp teeth, which only costs a trifle, can be inserted in a few minutes, without taking the saw off the mandrel, and no skill is required in doing it. DRY GOODS!

The year 1880 promises, from present indications, to be the most prosperous season Oregon has experienced since its admission to the family of States. Immigration will pour in, railroads will be built, bridges erected, and localities hitherto inaccessible will be connected with the business centers and distributing depots of the State. This will augment business and require large supplies of merchandise to meet the changed condition of things.

We have anticipated the increased demand that will spring up for all classes of goods, and our purchases of

LET THE STEAM RUN DOWN.—A good joke is told at the expense of the engineer employed at one of the sawmills of the city. However the exact truth of the story is not vouched for by the writer. It seems that the engineer has caught the 15 puzzle mania. He purchased a box, and yesterday afternoon commenced to solve the problem during his leisure moments. He worked out the puzzle several times and of course felt like exclaiming "Eureka." At length the pesky blocks got into the awkward position of 13 15 14. Now came the tug of war. Back and forth he worked the blocks, but it was all to no purpose. He would scratch his head and start in again each time the effort resulting in failure. So completely engrossed was the engineer that he forgot to keep the fire up in the furnace, and finally the steam got so low that it would scarcely drive the machinery. The foreman of the mill at length noticed the machinery slowing up. He could not imagine what the trouble was. He rushed down stairs to ascertain the cause of the difficulty. Imagine his surprise and disgust to find the engineer leaning over the puzzle box muttering "13 15 14—I know I did do it once and I can do it again." It is needless to add that the engineer started the steam up.

AH LEE'S ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—The suicide of Wong Fook on the morning of the day set for his execution has taught Jailor Barry that a Chinaman, like a mule, is not to be depended on. Ah Lee, who is sentenced to hang on the 20th proximo, is kept in a separate cell, and is never left alone, two men being employed to guard him, the watchmen relieving each other every six hours. Wednesday morning Ah Lee complained that vermin were bothering him and asked Mr Barry to give him something to kill them. Some mercurial ointment which had become hardened, was handed him and he pretended to rub it in his hair. A few minutes afterwards the watchman discovered that Ah Lee had dropped the ointment on his couch and crawling under the covers was rolling it into a pill. It was taken from him, and he confessed to the watchman that he intended to swallow the poison, hoping that it would kill him, and begged that Mr. Barry not be informed of the fact.

THE NEW IDRIAN QUICKSILVER MINE.—J W [illegible] and H B Morgan, stockholders of the New Idrian Cinnabar Mining Company, are now in Portland. From these gentlemen who are directly from the mine, we glean the following information concerning this Oregon [illegible]: The furnace, upon which the company have been working for nearly a year is now completed at a cost of $60,000 and is now in successful operation, reducing ore, and the yield of quicksilver exceeds the most sanguine expectations of the operators. The [illegible] veins of ore carrying quicksilver at the rate of from 3 to 40 per cent. are 86 feet in width, thus conclusively proving that ore exists in almost inexhaustible quantities. The main tunnel is now in 480 feet, with numerous drifts and crosscuts, developing [illegible] of tons of valuable ore. As a practical test five pounds of ore were reduced and yielded 16 ounces of pure mercury.

GRANVILLE EAST.—Miss Gertie Granville, the favorite soubrette who was until recently a member of the New Market Theater company is at present in New York. The [illegible] is a member of the combination known as "The Tragedians of Kalamazoo" which is announced soon to make a tour of the Atlantic states. Miss Granville is spoken of by the eastern press in very complimentary terms. Her many Pacific coast friends will be glad to learn of the very favorable impression made east by this vivacious little soubrette. The first page of the New York Mirror of March 6th is adorned by a handsome [illegible] of Miss Granville, and that paper, in speaking of the lady, says: "Some of the papers of California claim that she is the brightest and prettiest singing soubrette on the American stage. This from the home of Little Nell, Annie Pixley and other [illegible] lights is praise indeed."

INVESTIGATING THE DILHARREE DISASTER.—A court of inquiry into the cause of the loss of the British bark Dilharree, which ran aground on Sand Island on the 10th instant, has been in session since Wednesday morning in the office of Mr J Laidlaw British consul. Mr Laidlaw, Capt. Irving of the [illegible] and Capt Williams of the Ladstock, the first named gentleman as president constitute the board. The evidence of Capt [illegible], master, Norman Steel, first officer, [illegible] Bliss, second officer, John Dickson, [illegible], and John Smart, a seaman, all of the lost bark, was heard. Pilot Hewlit, even after repeated telegrams of request, declined to come here and testify, although he expressed a willingness to answer any written questions that might be submitted to him. The findings of the court will probably be made known to day or to-morrow.

A SMALL FIRE.—Yesterday afternoon the sash and door factory belonging to Mr Ainslie located at the corner of Ninth and J streets, was discovered to be on fire. A heavy wind prevailed at the time and the sparks were carried from the smoke stack and fell upon the roof, ignited. Fanned by the wind the flames spread rapidly, and before an effort could be made to extinguish them, the roof was blazing up quite fiercely. All the workmen employed about the mill came promptly to the rescue and with the aid of the hose and force pump connected with the factory soon succeeded in obtaining the mastery over the destroyer. A large hole was burned through the roof before the fire was put out. The damage will probably reach $100. No alarm of fire was sounded and the department was not called out.

SCOTTISH CONCERT.—BOX SHEET FOR GALLERY.—An additional box sheet for the gallery has been opened at Bartsch's music store, 143 First street, in order to accommodate the immense demand for tickets to the Scottish ballad concert next Monday evening. There was a perfect jam yesterday morning at the box sheet counter for reserved seats before noon the entire body of the theater including all four of the boxes, had been reserved. The management showed good judgment in not making any extra charge for the boxes, but throwing them in with the rest of the auditorium. The St. Andrew's Society has reason to congratulate itself at this display of appreciative feeling on the part of the people of Portland. It goes to show how far down in the hearts of all of us remain the memories of early days.

PETITIONING FOR STONE PAVEMENT.—Over two-thirds of the property holders on Front street between Ash and Madison have signed a petition which will be presented to the common council, asking that body to authorize the laying of stone pavement instead of Nicholson, as is provided by ordinance. The stone pavement petitioned for is similar to that which was laid last week in front of Union block by S S Cook of San Francisco. It is quite probable that the council will order that kind of improvement to be made.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The advertisement for the entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Ladies of Trinity Guild appears this morning and the full programme which we can assure our readers will be a rare one will be published to-morrow. At the same time will be announced the place and hour of opening the box sheet. Wednesday evening of next week is fixed for the entertainment.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES.—The German Evangelical Reformed Church corner of North Ninth and Stark streets will have Good Friday service at 10 30 o clock and preparation service for holy communion at 7 [illegible] o'clock P M. Communion service on Easter Sunday morning at 10 30 o'clock and service at 7 30 P M. John Gantenbein, pastor.

SOCIAL BALL.—Next Monday evening (Easter) a grand social ball will be given under the auspices of the Portland Social Turn Verein at Turn Halle. Music will be furnished by the Northwestern string band. Turners in good standing admitted free and are requested to wear badges.

VANCOUVER BRIDGE.—A [illegible] & Son the Portland contractors will have the Vancouver bridge completed in about two weeks. It will be 3 300 feet in length, the longest bridge in Oregon. The roadway of the structure is 18 feet in width, with a turn in the center 24 feet wide.

ARSON CASE.—The case of State of Oregon vs. Annie Stempf charged with arson was on trial all day yesterday in the state circuit court. All the testimony of the case is in and the argument of opposing counsel nearly closed. The case will be submitted to the jury this morning.

AT HALF MAST.—Yesterday all the flags of the shipping at Astoria were displayed at half mast in respect to the memory of the late Commodore Connor.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.

Henry Jacobs a Clerk in G. Winchill's Store which Burned 14th inst, Arrested on Charge of Setting Fire to the Premises.

DAMAGING TESTIMONY DISCOVERED

It will be remembered that the fire which nearly destroyed [illegible] same block on the corner of First and [illegible] streets on [illegible] morning the 14th inst was [illegible] mysterious. The hour of the fire, the fierceness with which it burned within a few minutes after it was discovered, the [illegible] of the amount of insurance and the destruction of all the books and papers of the concern which would indicate the value of stock [illegible] given, [illegible] [illegible] that the fire was not of accidental origin. A special agent was sent to this city from San Francisco by the Imperial and the Scottish Commercial Insurance Companies to adjust the loss, each company having a policy of $6000 on the stock. No adjustment could be made, out [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] could be [illegible] it will be remembered that Ed Winchill, a brother of the proprietor and Henry Jacobs, a clerk, were sleeping in the store at the time of the fire but made their escape, the former having his hair singed and hands burned. Since the fire Constable M R Wallace and Detective A B Singleton have been looking up the case, and having secured enough evidence to warrant the arrest of Henry Jacobs on the charge of arson. Jacobs was arrested Wednesday evening and taken before Justice Davis who placed him under $3,000 bonds. Not being able to give that amount Jacobs was lodged in the county jail.

The detectives who worked up the case claim to be able to prove by reliable witnesses the following facts in connection with the fire: That Winchill and Jacobs did not retire on the morning of the fire until nearly 4 o'clock (they stated under oath to the special agent that they went to bed at [illegible]); that a quantity of goods was sent to The Dalles and sold at auction; that one of the men who was sleeping in the store was seen to leave through the front door before the flames burst out and the other leave through the back door both being partially dressed; that the stock was not worth anything near the amount of insurance; that coal oil was discovered running from under the front door to the edge of the sidewalk and the fire following it and that there was no fire in the building ten minutes before the flames burst out. They have also much other important evidence which they do not deem wise to make public now.

It is likely that a telegram will be sent to San Francisco ordering the arrest of Gus Winchill the proprietor of the store and his brother Ed who left Wednesday morning on the Oregon. Jacobs was asked by an OREGONIAN reporter last night whether he had any statement to make in his defense and replied that he was innocent of the charges preferred by Singleton, that he would be able to prove his innocence at the preliminary examination and that he was ready for an examination any minute.

The preliminary examination will probably take place before Justice Davis to morrow.

MAGIC SQUARES

Some General Principles Illustrative of the Sorcery of the Fifteen Puzzle

Fifteen has been everywhere and no solution of the puzzle. But why both one's brains with the small ingenuity which has been pronounced insoluble upon the soundest mathematical reasoning by Dr F Barnard mathematical instructor of Columbia college of New York. The whole solution rests upon the proposition in mechanics that two solid bodies cannot occupy one and the same space at one and the same time and when the [illegible] of this is proved the fifteen puzzle will readily be solved. However it has served to recall many of the old problems and questions of former days some of which are solved and answered in the same way that the youth was who giving his genealogy said "I have neither uncle nor aunt [illegible] my father has brother [illegible]" The only satisfactory solution of this riddle was that the boy lied. The only solution of the fifteen puzzle [illegible] the numbers in order except 14 and 15 interchanged is that it cannot be solved notwithstanding that it is apparently no knottier than the [illegible] and one [illegible] and examples of [illegible] days. Johnson's Encyclopedia publishes an article on magic squares which is of especial interest to the thousand puzzle solvers who are poring over 13—15—14 and while it is of no great mathematical value will serve to fascinate and charm by its mathematical and ingenious reasoning.

Magic squares are the arrangement of terms of an arithmetical series in parallel and equal rows and columns so that the sum of every continuous row whether vertical, horizontal or diagonal may be the same. Take the arithmetical series the nine digits 1 to 9 and place them in a magic square and we have the following

[illegible]	[illegible]	1

This diagram simple though it seem possesses a singular fascination for many minds and every one whose investigation leads them farther than absolute facts theorize upon the principles involved in the diagram and the success in establishing a correct theory is only measured by the failure on application of our great discovery. Many reasons Lord Napier reasoned and a revolution in calculation was the result of his logarithms. Pythagoras demonstrated a problem that mathematical reason now demonstrates by four or more different and independent solutions. The methods of forming these magic squares though manifesting almost wizard ingenuity are nevertheless not based on any principles largely general but in most cases are the result of tentative or empirical processes of inquiry. The earliest knowledge of the history of these squares are the writings of Moschopulus a Greek of the sixteenth century whose work on the subject was translated into Latin by the celebrated mathematician de la Hire in 1691 and was read by him before the academy of science of France about the same time. Moschopulus among other examples gives the following series which it will be observed is the natural order of numbers

11	24	7	20	3
4	12	25	8	16
7	5	13	21	9
10	18	1	14	22
23	6	19	2	15

1	15	14	4
12	6	7	9
8	10	11	5
13	3	2	16

Now, the construction of a similar square can be formed by naming any arithmetical series, as 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 12 14 16 18 and we have

4	14	12
18	10	2
8	6	16

Or sixteen terms of the series 1, 4, 7 10 etc and as a result the following

1	41	40	10
34	16	19	25
22	28	31	13
37	7	4	46

Thus it will be seen that any arithmetical series, whose number of terms is a perfect square as 9 16 or 25 may be formed into a magic square. The same is also true of any of the multiples which are perfect squares. The rule for determining whether or no an arithmetical series is capable of being placed in a magic square, which of course must depend more or less upon continuous ingenuity of the demonstration, seems to be embraced in the following.

Whenever a number of terms in a row is a prime number greater than 3 and also when the number of terms is composite, provided it does not embrace either 2 or 3 among its component factors. Under this rule any arithmetical series whose number of terms is equal to the square of a prime number can be placed in a magic square. The article in Johnson after laying down some general principles, proceeds to say: "To construct squares however, with no guidance but this general principle involves the necessity of study for the placing of each governing term and is therefore tedious besides being attended with liability to error." Recognizing however, the labyrinth in which this haphazard mathematics may involve the operator, the article lays down a series of formula and illustrates the whole by constructing squares on the principles deduced from the rules.

Besides the simple square there are the tesselated squares which are squares made up of lesser squares which are also magic. These like a class of simple magic squares are not composed of arithmetical series and involve new complications and renewed energy and ingenuity in formation.

Another class of magic squares is called the magic square of squares which are arithmetical series whose number of terms are an even 4th power, and each square is magic within itself. The combinations are almost infinite in number. The number of positions in which numbers can be placed can easily be ascertained by multiplying the numbers from one to the number of the terms in the series together thus suppose the series to be of four terms, 1 2 3 4.—the product being 24 is the number of variations.

Eminent philosophers and mathematicians have investigated these magic squares and have taken an advance step and developed magic circles and magic cubes in the same manner by ingenious combinations of numbers and show that figures dull as they appear in the abstract may out-Herod Herod himself in sorcery and legerdemain.

SILVER BRICKS FROM EASTERN OREGON

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

An interesting article [illegible] upon the fossil beds of John Day and Crooked river [illegible] suggests the following in regard to the mineral resources of the [illegible] [illegible] process of development [illegible] Mining Company [illegible]

It is not my purpose [illegible] the results.

On the counter of the First National bank there are now eleven silver bars [illegible] $14,036 [illegible] of $14 [illegible] is the proceeds of the [illegible] month of February. [illegible] conclusive evidence of the existence of mineral wealth which will not [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] gnomes.

But few discriminate between [illegible] mining and stock speculations. There never was a better field for legitimate mining than [illegible] the present time. [illegible] than Granite creek, Grant county, Oregon. The mining product of the world is not yet large enough to supply the increasing demand. For years a ready market for all the precious metals that can be produced will be found and anxiously waiting. The miner has a crop that is not affected by drouth or blight by worm or grasshopper by winter's cold or summer's heat—it is already garnered and stored away. Agriculture with ten thousand difficulties in her way, her product is pending upon the caprice of wind and sun beset by enemies on every side, but sure and safe until disposed of has spread out over the plains of the country and by keeping production solely in view has grown to colossal proportions and influence. A farmer beset by poverty and discouraged by the frequent destruction of his crop may be tempted to dispose of some interest in consequence of his misfortune but there is no inducement for the owner of a mine full of rich ore to think of anything but development and production. Mining must be brought to its legitimate work before it can secure the success it deserves. The world is hungry for the product of our mines and the demand for precious metals can to some extent be satisfied from the mines of Eastern Oregon. The mission and true object of mining is to supply this demand. When this is understood and appreciated and when every energy is turned in that direction we may look for a success and prosperity greater even than the most sanguine have [illegible] and the result will be inevitable and will carry with it a reward that will be both satisfactory and abundant.

PORTLAND

CITY HOMESTEAD.

THE LAND IN THIS ENTERPRISE LIES adjoining the city and is only from ten to fifteen minutes walk from the court house and a less distance than that from one of the best public schools in the city. It is divided into

One Thousand and Twenty-Four Lots,

Fifty by one hundred feet in size with streets sixty feet wide. Two hundred of these lots will be reserved for those who desire to improve and build this summer and fall. These lots will be sold on the same liberal terms that are offered in the Homestead proper.

Price.

All lots will be sold for $100 each payable in instalments of $5 per month or the small sum of 16⅔ cents per day. No interest will be charged and a good and sufficient Bond for Deed will be given upon the payment of the first installment of $5, and a Warranty Deed upon receipt of last installment both without expense to purchaser.

Appreciation of Values.

By reference to The Oregonian of Feb 15th it will be found that city property has advanced twenty five per cent during the past year. As there has been no excitement, the rise is wholly attributable to the increasing immigration and the growing confidence inspired by our numerous railroad enterprises and the development of our many natural resources that have hitherto slumbered for lack of energetic men to develop them.

It is True,

That of all real estate investments the homestead plan is the best and safest, as all who invest are interested in making the whole property more valuable. To illustrate: Suppose A builds a house on his lot, and B owns a lot adjoining B gets the benefit of A's improvement while A is not injured thereby. This philosophy will apply to the entire property.

We have donated a lot to each of the principal churches for church purposes.

In addition to the above two lots are set apart for public school purposes.

Division.

The division of this property will take place when the lots are all sold, or in any event not later than the 28th February, 1881,

at the Mechanics' Pavilion commencing at 10 o'clock A M public notice of which will be given by publication in two principal journals in the State.

It will be made in the manner decided upon by a majority of the purchasers in the Homestead. Parties interested may appoint proxies to act for them if they desire to do so. Parties who do not attend at the time of the division, either in person or by proxy, will be bound by the plan settled upon by the majority of those who do so attend.

It is suggested by the purchasers that division might be made by placing the number of each lot and block in a wheel or box and the name of each party interested in the homestead in another. Then a name will be drawn from one and a number from the other and the lot so drawn deeded to the person whose name is so drawn when all payments are made.

All but the first installment must be paid at the banking house of Ladd & Tilton in the city of Portland.

Persons from a Distance

Desiring a share may forward $5 00 to the General Manager and a bond will be immediately forwarded.

Money may be forwarded by registered letter, money order or Wells Fargo & Co's Express, at my risk.

ENGLISH CROPS AND MARKETS

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

Th[illegible] weekly review of the crops and markets of Europe under date of March 23d says The weather has been cold [illegible] spring sowing has proceeded favorably and the agricul[illegible] may be regarded as promising. There has been an advance [illegible] in home grown wheat both at Mark Lane and in the country [illegible] been unusually small and millers operating more freely. This marked diminution in supplies indicates the low ebb [illegible] which the reserve of last year's scanty crop has fallen [illegible] tion of holders to part with [illegible]

Imports of foreign wheat have [illegible] moderate. There has been an improved [illegible] advance of 6d to 1s per qr. A good trade was done in all varieties as [illegible] though of a retail character were numerous. There has also been some continental inquiry. Exports during the past five weeks have exceeded 2[illegible] qrs. The increase [illegible] Inquiry of the past fortnight is very significant [illegible] usually favorable weather for agriculture would in ordinary seasons have justified millers in working stocks down as close as possible but the attitude of the American ring is being watched with feverish anxiety and in case of reason circumstances should arise to weaken the strength which America appears to possess the time cannot be far distant when the wants of western Europe will cause a rush to get in at the lowest prices.

A fair amount of business was done in wheat for shipment early in the week but the greater part of last Monday's advance has since been lost. Sales of English wheat last week were 24 436 qrs at 43s 1d per qr against 50 041 qrs at 43s 8d per qr for the corresponding week last year. Imports into the U K during the week ending 13th inst were 9[illegible] cwts of wheat and 151 616 cwts of flour

Beerbohm English Wheat Report.

LONDON, March 25—Floating cargoes rather easier. Cargoes on passage and for shipment slow. Good wheat cargoes off coast, per 480 lbs less usual commission No 2 spring 52s@52s 6d red winter 56s@56s 6d. English country markets steady. French country markets quiet. Liverpool spot wheat quiet. Wheat afloat, 2,125,000 qrs.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN)

SAN FRANCISCO March 24 —Eggs—Consignments of eastern and Salt Lake have at last arrived quotable at 20c. Receipts of California continue free over 100 boxes coming in from southern counties yesterday by steamer. The ruling price given us this morning was 21c.

Butter—Although the customary supplies were augmented by the receipt of 5000 boxes from the lower coast yesterday there is no large stock on hand to day. Prices, however are rather soft and there is a tendency to shade in rates. We therefore quote the market weak at 25@27c for good to choice inferior to ordinary 22@24c.

Domestic Produce.

The week under review in this department of trade has been marked by no large single transactions, though the aggregate volume of trade in all seasonable articles has been quite as heavy as usual. The foreign wheat markets have been up and down, closing steady for cargoes afloat and on passage to the continent, but a little duller in Liverpool for spot. The Chicago market has gradually receded both for cash and for April and May delivery. The home trade shows a gradual reduction of the accessible surplus and buyers are securing only occasional parcels picking out as it were, the years business. For choice lots the highest figure named is $1 87½ per cental but the mean quotation is $1 85

Flour is in fair supply and prices are generally maintained at last week's quotations. Some mills are working off their surplus by shipping to San Francisco where the market is barely enough above this to defray freight expenses. The local trade is active. Oats are more inquired for and prices slightly improved with about the usual receipts and heavier consumption. Provisions are a little weaker and stocks ample to meet the demand.

Dairy products, quiet and slightly lower. Eggs are held at 15c by jobbers but 10c is liable to be the price before this reaches our readers the receipts of the past 48 hours having materially weakened the market

Potatoes, still dull and prices so low that few are freighted from any considerable distance. San Francisco is taking some from this market but the demand for shipping is limited

Onions are scarcer and higher

Dried fruits are in good demand at an advance of ½@1c per pound over last week's quotations.

The market for poultry is lower and the supply ample to meet the demand

Hides are held at full rates and dealers are doing a fair business. An active demand is anticipated in the eastern markets

But little has yet been done in the spring wool clip, shearing not having yet fairly begun though the practice of some growers to shear in February was carried out by a few in Eastern Oregon and some of their product has been received selling at 30@32½c for choice quality. The early shearers probably had not the confidence in the future of the market which generally prevails and which is justified by the latest advices from the east, that there are no probabilities of wool being lower for some time to come. In their March circular Kitching Bros of New York say that for carpet wool during the past month the demand has been moderate and prices of some kinds have improved while all descriptions have ruled firm with an advancing tendency. Of no kind is there even a fair supply excepting Donskoi and of this not more than sufficient, even if enough to carry us through until the next clip is available. Prices are likely to go higher before then. The markets of Europe are all poorly supplied with stock and a continued advance is looked for

There is nothing doing in the home market in the way of charters. Shippers stand aloof at the rates at which vessels are offered though such rates are low. There are no disengaged in port.

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—Receipts fair but decreasing in volume buyers doing a little business at prices all the way from $1 80 to $1 87½.

FLOUR—Best brands quotable at $[illegible] 5 with cutting under by some mills on round lots. Country brands and superfine $5@4 50

OATS—Market more active and demand increasing at 45c for good to choice lower qualities 40@43c per bushel

WOOL—Market strong at [illegible]@3[illegible] for good to choice light receipts and [illegible] on part of holders that the full prices will be maintained for some to come

HAY—The supply is fair and dealers pay $14 @$15 per ton for good timothy

BACON—Slightly weaker at following quotations 10½@11c ℔ for sides 1[illegible]@13 cents for hams and 7@8c for shoulders

LARD—Market quiet at 10½c in kegs 11c in tins and 11@11½c in pails.

CHICKENS—Market well supplied full grown $3 50@4 ℔ doz small to medium $[illegible]@3 50
